#16 DECORATIVE LIGHTING
IN ARCHITECTURE
MAY/JUN 2016

ZAHA HADID | SIR KENNETH GRANGE

INTERSECT BY LEXUS | OVOLO HOTEL

FRANKFURT | MILAN | NEW YORK | LONDON

1. Scraplight Graypants

The Scraplight white series pushed the collaboration between the Seattle and Amsterdam studios to new levels. Using custom-made pure white corrugated cardboard, the FSC-certified paper in white achieves the bright modern glow and crisp translucency that contrasts the rustic warmth of the original Scraplights.

4. H2O Lavagna In-es.artdesign

Matt Lavagna's collection for In-esartdesign can be written on and erased like a blackboard, lived day to day in a playful and light manner. This range was designed to evoke childhood games or memories of first days at school, with its winning feature being the surface, available in a variety of colours.

2. Ice Absolute Hind Rabii

The Ice series is comprised of a number of variations including the Tech, Chic, Shade and Absolute versions. The lamp features an ice dome, its transparency embellished by finishes and high-tech elements with smooth and sinuous lines. Absolute Ice is the 2016 novelty with silver, gold or copper finishes for the shade top.

5. Loop Ingo Maurer

Loop combines the unique beauty of the incandescent lamp with cutting-edge LED technology. It is slender and light, made of a stainless steel wire, brass, aluminium and plastic. The LED spot swivels through 360° on a horizontal axis, while the rod at the cooling device is a touch sensor to switch Loop on or off.

3. Non So Knikerboker

As part of Knikerboker's new lighting line, Non So is inspired by what's essential and indefinable. Non So evokes a sensation, a charming impression that can't be clearly defined. A customisable wall or ceiling lamp, Non So's bronze outer leaf with a white inside is available in various colours to be combined at will.

6. mrs.Q Jacco Maris

This distinctive floor lamp with a characteristic leather finish features a folded leather shade with a timeless, organic look. Combined with the carefully designed metal stand, mrs.Q characterises the mixture of raw elegance and is also available in complete leather and as a floor and wall lamp.
